We support Sea Mercy and their ongoing efforts to bring free health care to the 1,000's of neglected remote islands across the South Pacific

“Your Organization” and Sea Mercy

"Nobody cares how much you know, until they know how much you care."
Theodore Roosevelt

At “Your Organization”, we believe in finding ways to help both the local and international communities that we serve. Our scholarship partnership with Sea Mercy allows us to help working professionals reignite their career passion by giving them the tools and resources to do something amazing. By joining one of their Floating Health Care Clinics (large sailing catamarans) in the South Pacific, you will be part of a very special medical mission program that sails to the most remote islands in the South Pacific to deliver care to a people who do not have access to even the most basic of health care services.

Here is how it works: Every (month, quarter, year) we draw a name from our Sea Mercy database of interested volunteers and provide them with a full 2-week sponsorship on one of their Floating Health Care Clinic vessels. The selected candidate will be able to choose from fifteen 2-week rotations that Sea Mercy operates from April to October.

REGISTER ONLINE TO WIN A SCHOLARSHIP!

This incredible 2-week medical mission opportunity in the South Pacific is only a quick registration away. Come by yourself, as a couple, or as a group. Either way a wonderful South Pacific experience is waiting. While you’re there, register to win a Sea Mercy rotation scholarship.

WHY SEA MERCY?

“Your Organization” has always been active in assisting our “local” community when needs arise. What we were looking for was an “international” need that was not being met by other organizations. Sea Mercy has taken on a huge task of bringing free health care to the thousands of neglected and ignored remote islands of the South Pacific. When we began researching their program, we knew that we wanted to not only support it directly, but to engage the talents of our local community also. We felt the best way to do that would be to help sponsor volunteer professionals from our community to go and be a part of their program. It is the best “working vacation” we could have ever selected.

Join us in supporting them and their efforts!

Helping volunteers to sail with a purpose

You don't need to bring much on this trip, because we have you covered. Once you step onto one of our Floating Health Care Clinic (FHCC) vessels, you will feel right at home. Our 45-65 foot catamarans and experienced captains will take you, your heart, and your fellow team members to some of the most beautiful remote islands you have ever seen. Although there will be plenty of time for swimming, snorkeling, reading, hiking, fishing and quiet walks on the beaches; the main reason you are with us is to deliver the desperately needed health care services to the people on these remote islands.

WHO IS SEA MERCY?

Sea Mercy (www.seamercy.org) is a US based 501(c)3 non-profit organization with a simple vision and mission to "stand in the gap" with a service delivery vessel, trained health volunteers, support equipment, and critical care services until our island nation partners develop their "outer island" health care infrastructure. Operating from a growing fleet of large sailing catamarans, Sea Mercy provides and staffs free Floating Health Care Clinics (FHCC) for our island nation partner's remote islands. Each health care specific team (4-8 volunteers) joins us for a two-week rotation where we visit only the outer remote islands that do not have access to medical care, dental care and eye care services.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Expect the unexpected at every stop. Just like a day at the office or hospital, every day on the FHCC vessel brings something new. From an incredible sunrise or sunset, a pod of whales or dolphins, or a new remote village. Whatever the day brings, will be a memory that we hope you will treasure and share with others.

Accommodations - Our sailing catamarans range from 45 to 65 feet in length and can carry from 4-8 volunteers. We have a few single bunks, but it may require you to share a queen cabin, so bring a friend or spouse if possible.

Food - The food will be delicious and you will never be hungry for very long, but we are limited to what is available in the markets of our island nations (so bring your own special snacks to share if you like).

Destinations - You will be sailing through one of four remote island groups; Ha'apai (Tonga), Vava'u (Tonga), Eastern Lau (Fiji), or the Western Yasawa (Fiji). Although each group consists of 12-30+ islands, we will visit only 5-8 per rotation.

Culture - You will get to experience what the Tonga & Fiji cultures were most like in the distant past and learn from you host health ministry staff working with you.

Weather - Sun, rain, wind, and calm (possible all in one day), all wrapped in a 70-85 degree warm blanket called the South Pacific.
